Who you are is determined by your heart, your soul, and your spirit. Who you are after physical disability remains the same. You may just have to look a little more closely to recognize yourself. By choosing the points of view you believe serve you the most, you can become acquainted with yourself again-and it's an exciting reunion!

I created this small book because with the onset of my own physical disability, I made every mistake in my points of view that I could possibly make. The good news is that I learned from every one of those mistakes. I want to share what I've learned with others who are going through a similar experience.

Proceeds from the sale of this book are donated to Plan B Living Inc., a non-profit corporation. The mission of Plan B Living Inc. is to empower people who sustain mid-life physical disability.
